

Sad farewell bid D.O.N.

Staff of Elk Point Municipal Hospital bid an emotional farewell Friday to Director of Nursing Diana Anderson, whose resignation from the staff took effect that day.

A lengthy tribute to Mrs. Anderson was delivered by co-worker Bernie Kozicky, who said 'this is a sad day for us...a big part of Elk Point Hospital will be gone with you,' as she outlined the many accomplishments and innovations the devoted worker brought about during her 24 years on the hospital staff. (The text of Mrs. Kozicky's address is printed on Page 6 of this issue.)

Presentations of gifts were made by Rosemary Rohner, on behalf of the Canadian Union of Public Employees, by Patty Pittman Fisher on behalf of the medical staff, by Elizabeth Didow of the United Nurses of Alberta, by Angie Lesyk on behalf of the Hospital staff, and by Joanne Hutton of Alberta Association of Registered Nursing Assistants. Ms. Didow assured Mrs. Anderson 'you brought out the best in all of us,' while Mrs. Hutton added thanks 'for believing in us.'

The group overflowing the hospital cafeteria was entertained by musical selections by Debbie Lawrence, Mathilda Fergher and Gwen Morris.

Lillian Demchuk's reminiscences of days spent with Mrs. Anderson dated back to the mud pies, early infatuations and strawberry picking expeditions of their shared childhood. Her good friend also referred to Mrs. Anderson's perpetually positive and cheerful attitude, and her natural leadership abilities.

Mrs. Anderson added a few reminiscences of her own, from her first shift, worked with Barbara Milholland, to times when crowded conditions made it necessary to put four newborns in one bed. Her unquenchable smile even shone through her tears as she urged her fellow staff members to 'remember that a good staff is the most important part of a hospital,' and commented 'I'm so glad to have had the opportunity to work here.'

Fond Farewell...

Council commits funds for CSC study

Elk Point Town Council committed $5000 from their reserves toward a feasibility and marketing study for a new Community Services Centre at Monday night's meeting, following the disclosure that provincial grant funding for the study is no longer available.

An engineering assessment of the present CSC building undertaken by Alberta Public Works has shown that construction of a new facility is the only reasonable alternative. Helmut Entrup of the Community Facility Enhancement Program has informed the Town that funding for a feasibility study, price-tagged at approximately $7800, is no longer available, but encouraged the Town to apply for funding toward the construction of a new building in the form of a matching grant.

Local sources will be approached to make up the balance of the funding for the feasibility study, which would determine the size, type and equipment needed, possible sites, building and operating costs, and put this much needed facility one step closer to reality.

The disturbing news of cuts in Community Recreation and Cultural grant funding was also announced to Council. A letter from Minister of Recreation and Parks Steven West told of 'tough fiscal readjustment' in the Department, with a cut to $10 per capita for 1989, and further cuts in subsequent years. This will mean $2792 less coming to Elk Point, and will result in pro-rating of the applications made by local groups. Grant applications are going back to the Recreation Board to be pro-rated.

A snarl of red tape threaten to engulf Council as they dug deep into the question of who is authorized to spend what amount of funds, following last meeting's approval of the budget. Consideration of implementation of budget policies was tabled to a future meeting, after much discussion.

A letter of resignation was received from Recreation Aide Gail Kozicky, who has left the Town's employ for a job at the Hospital. Council decided that Recreation Work Experience student Tracey Boothman can do a large portion of the necessary work, with assistance from the administrative staff, and will be offered this position until a permanent person is hired.

Also in the area of recreation, a recommendation from the Recreation Board to delay use of the Rec Land ball diamonds until 1990, due to slow growth of the grass cover on the outfields. Some reseeding is necessary, and will be undertaken shortly.

The issue of weed control was studied, and the Finance Committee empowered to negotiate with the County of St. Paul regarding the part-time use of their weed control inspector on a contract basis.

Elk Point Public Library: Video Cassettes?

Why would a library expand its collection to include Video Cassettes for loan to patrons? Mainly, because you asked us to do it when the Library Board conducted a Community Needs Assessment in 1987, and secondly, to meet the Library's mission to provide a wide variety of library materials to meet the need for information, recreation, education and culture.

A Video Cassette collection in a library, is not a new idea! Most libraries in Alberta have either already established a collection, or are in the process of doing so.

The Library Board has made a commitment to establish such a collection. The Video's will be self-help informational tapes, for the most part. Including topics such as parenting, sewing, golf tips, home safety management, financial planning, etc. As well as information tapes, there will be documentary tapes such as those put out by the National Geographic and the Candian Geographic.

The only movie tapes purchased will be "classic" movies made in the 1930's to 1950's. The tapes chosen will compliment the book collection and will be loaned to patrons at no additional cost, other than a valid library card. The Library does not intend to compete with local video outlets and will not carry "top ten" movies or childrens cartoons. The intent is to fill a gap, by purchasing tapes not offered for rent by video outlets and also to provide current information and an expanded service to the residents of Elk Point and District.

At this point in time, one in three residents of Elk Point is a library patron. Video tapes are a wonderful source of knowledge for these people, as well as for new patrons who will undoubtedly want to take advantage of these new materials, by purchasing a library membership. Library Membership Fees are very reasonable, at $8.00 per family, or $4.00 per adult and $2.00 a child, annually.

With the cost of purchasing books, magazines and cassettes constantly on the rise, it makes good economic sense to simply borrow what you desire, from the very wide selection of library materials available to you.

So come on down to the Elk Point Public Library and check it out. You could be pleasantly surprised by what you find! For further information on all the programs and services provided by the Library, please call your Librarian at 724-3737.

Two local graduates from Blue Quills

By Billie Milholland

On June 17, 1989 two Elk Point women graduated in a post-secondary Graduation Ceremony, at the Blue Quills First Nation College, St. Paul. Lavina Aubee received her diploma from the Social Worker Program plus an award for academic achievement. Lisa (Litwinski) Labossiere received her diploma in Management Studies.

The ceremonies opened with the McGillivray Drum from Saddle Lake ushering in the graduands, who filed into the gymnasium through an arch covered in leather and feathers. Sweet grass was burned under the arch, moments before the ceremonies began.

The ceremonies were a pleasant mixture of old traditions and new trends with Master of Ceremonies Allen Jacob directing the afternoon with warmth and good humour. An inspirational address was delivered by Dr. Oliver Brass, president of Saskatchewan Federated College.

Open house at Heritage Lodge

By Irene Magnusson

Sunday, June 4th, was Open House, for seniors of the area, and for those who are interested in the seniors' world, at the Elk Point Heritage Lodge.

Arranged by staff, the dining area was turned into a mini-theatre, ready to welcome visitors and residents to an afternoon of entertainment and spiritual uplift, all being welcomed by Matron Alvina Schuhmacher at around 2:15 p.m.

Scripture readings, a short sermon, and words of prayer were offered by Reverend Sam Donaldson, of the United Church, interspersed with several gospel songs lead by Debielou Huskins. Rev. Donaldson's comments were directed to seniors, "As seniors go into their special week" he encouraged them to remember that "God still loves you," and that the elderly need reassurance that they are not alone.

Marian Smith, a resident at the Lodge, read from the scriptures, on the Love of God, followed by Mrs. Huskins' solo "Come to Me in Prayer", with taped accompaniment by a person in Newfoundland. Several more songs followed, including a trio, where Franklin Wolters and Daniel Quinn joined Huskins in song.

Rev. Donaldson continued his encouraging words with the advice that "God has not forgotten you (seniors)" - "that you are still important, to God, and to society" and that "we couldn't do without you."

Marian Smith then read a poem, "Don't Quit," full of encouragement. The short service closed with "Abide With Me," and prayer.

The 2nd section of the program featured the nimble footwork of a group of junior Ukrainian dancers, introduced by Gaby Bayduza, eight numbers in all performed, by skilled and enthusiastic youngsters, brightly bedecked with elaborate, colorful costumes of the Ukraine. The smiling faces, charming routines and sprightly dances were well received, and applauded.

This offering was followed by a series of seven or eight country-type songs performed adeptly and pleasingly by three pretty young ladies, Gwen Morris, Debbie Lawrence and Mathilda Ferber, accompanying themselves with two guitars and a tambourine.

Words of thanks were offered by Mrs. Schuhmacher, then all residents present gathered at the fore to witness the cutting of the giant cake, prepared by the staff, by the Reverend Sam Donaldson.

Meanwhile, heavenly scents were pervading the room, coming from the patio through the open doors, making everyone aware that the barbeque was in action, and a treat was in store.

With guests and residents mingling to enjoy the pleasant surroundings, and heaps of delicious food prepared by the staff and helpers, somewhat over a hundred persons dined and visited. Rooms were open for inspection, by the visitors, and it is hoped many took advantage of the opportunity to see first-hand the excellent facilities available for the residents. My thanks are added to those of the other guests, to the staff, for an entertaining and delicious afternoon.

Senior Citizens' Week...

Reverend Sam Donaldson joined Heritage Lodge residents to start off Senior Citizens'

Week with an open house celebration, and lent a hand to cut the ceremonial cake.

Milholland art display opens Thursday

Billie Milholland is much more than a mural artist. This will be increasingly clear to those who visit the first-ever show of her creations, which opens Thursday, June 22 from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the Program Room of the Elk Point Public Library. The show will continue during library hours until the Canada Day weekend.

Delicate watercolors, acrylics ranging from whimsical, bright-colored flowers to vintage automobiles to age-battered buildings, and intricately detailed pencil sketches are included in the almost 50 works which will be displayed under the title, 'A Visual Smorgasbord.'

Take special note of her portraits, which encompass all three media. The minute detailing of these works bring out the character of her subjects, who range from small children to great-grandparents.

The multi-talented Milholland, whose other interests include writing (her story on Fort George Museum owner Steve Andrishak appeared in last week's Western People magazine) and gourmet cooking, was born, raised and educated in the Elk Point area, and is in fact a member of the 'Class of '64' which will be celebrating their 25th Anniversary Homecoming on the Canada Day weekend. One stop sure to be included in the weekend's events will be a visit to the 'Visual Smorgasbord' in the Library, and a tour of the Historical Mural next door.

Crop report

Frequent showers through the area have contributed to the adequate moisture conditions in the Elk Point area, where current crop growth prospects are estimated as 'very good.'

Yield estimates are relatively high, at 1200 kg per acre for wheat, 1234 kg for barley, 1306 kg for oats, and 454 kg for canola. Only fall rye, which suffered from some winterkill, is low at 762 kg per acre.

Estimated swathing date for spring seeded crops is August 25.

Summer's coming in

Suddenly, the season we dreamed of through winter's frigid days, frost-coated nights and spring blizzards is here: it's summer.

School is in its last few days, most clubs and groups are preparing to shut down operations until fall, and everyone is planning how to spend their increased leisure hours to the utmost.

Just a few things to keep in mind, as you are planning to set out to seek fun in the sun: make sure you check your car's tires and cooling system, carry a first aid kit, and drive with extra caution. There is a lot of extra traffic out there, and some of it, pulling boats or trailers, isn't going very fast. Be sure you have time to pass before you pull out into the other lane—vacation time is too precious to be spent in traction—or worse.

Many of you will be heading to our beautiful lakes. Please—help to keep them that way. Take your trash home with you, or at least as far as the garbage receptacles which are provided. Also, please remember that boating, swimming and waterskiing do not mix with the consumption of alcohol. You need all your skill and good judgement to be safe out on the water.

Heading for the wilderness? Make sure you leave your campsite at least as clean as you found it, and don't feed the bears, if you are unfortunate enough to encounter any—they might want YOU for dessert. Recent reports of a hiker mauled by a buffalo remind us that wild animals often exhibit unexpected and unfriendly behavior—wouldn't you, if you found some stranger meandering across your back yard?

Have a good vacation—enjoy the sights, take lots of pictures, relax...and bring 'em back alive.

Letter to the editor

Encourage young artists

Dear Editor:

Last week I attended a delightful art show at the library put on by Wayne Hymanyk's grade 3-6 art students. This is the second year that Mr. Hymanyk has used his own time and money to share with the community the creative achievements of his elementary students. As I looked at the wide variety of styles and mediums represented I could not help but remember my own elementary school days when coloring between the lines was the only art instruction we received. I heard some mumblings about art show from people who felt that 'all this art stuff' was a waste of time because who, of all those kids were going to become artists anyway?

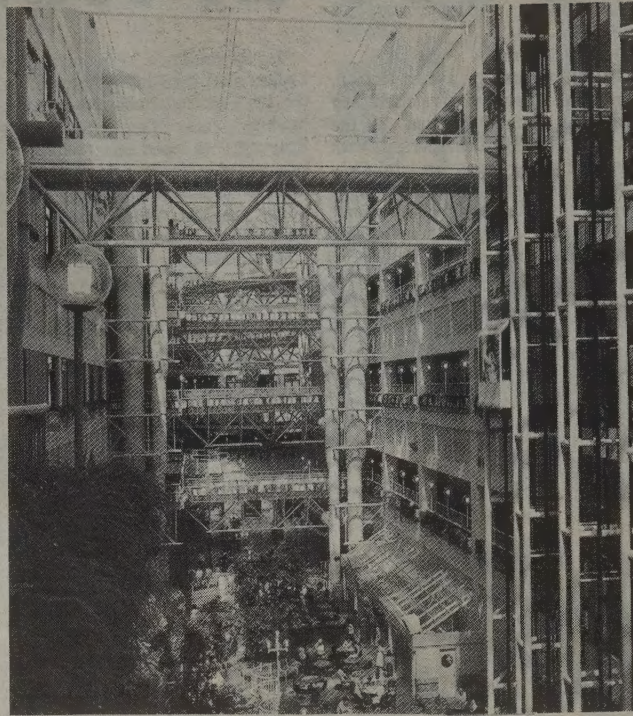

I feel concerned that this attitude toward art, music and other creative endeavors is more prevalent than it should be. Any time that a child is encouraged to experience and experiment with their creative expression, that child is moved one step closer to gaining a healthy feeling of self-worth. When a child has an opportunity to receive approval and applause from the community, that child gains a little more self confidence.

Of course, very few of Mr. Hymanyk's art students will become artists. Very few of our young hockey players, softball players or basketball players will become career athletes either but that is not the point of their involvement in sports.

If we truly want our children to become versatile, opened-minded adults who can cope well in a rapidly changing world, we will applaud teachers like Wayne Hymanyk who give of their own time to expand the horizons of our children. If those naysayers that I overheard had bothered to look at the faces of the art students as they watched the public admire their work, and had seen the glow that appreciation brings, they would have bit their tongues before uttering such unconstructive criticism.

Sincerely
Billie Milholland

Visitor's impressions

By Irene Magnusson

On the outside, the sprawled bulk of the University Hospital in Edmonton, looks much the same as it always did - large, hulking and solid. Surely, a new face, but not much different, lots of cement.

Inside, in the area we are ensconced in, waiting the hours away, between our intermittent peeks into our dear Aunty's room, and time between, we have time to see - a very different interior than remembered from a first long-ago visit to this same place.

On this floor - and I see no sign of a great difference on other floors - the halls are wide, some are carpeted and very clean. The old memories, of narrow, echoing alleyways, heavily painted, much scrubbed wood, worn by countless feet, countless wheels, the white painted walls, the hurrying staff.

I seem to recall a tiny, crowded waiting room, reeking with the stale tobacco smells of days when every second person, at least, smoked and no one told them nay. Today, our waiting room is large, airy and clean-smelling, comfortable chairs, well-padded, surround the exterior, while—who would believe it? - a row of rocking chairs is lined up, facing the large TV in a corner.

Patients use this room, mainly, but there are also many visitors, like us, waiting to see their loved ones briefly, between the many ministrations being given them by attentive nurses and others.

The most striking part of this "new" look is the central area, bright with sunshine, blue sky or clouds overhead, or here you can look up or down a full five storeys, overhead a high glass-roofed dome. Numerous walkways cross and anywhere and everywhere are hanging greenery, ivy and spider plants, countless pots and planters spilling the vines and fronds down the creamy walls, along the walkways, and over the railings.

The air is completely fresh and sweet. Sitting rooms, with comfortable chairs and tables, are strategically placed, for patients and visitors use. On the lower floor of this central area, are dining areas, overhung with trees and vines - (no, there are no caterpillars!), flower and novelty shops, plus bank outlets, and no doubt other conveniences. Vast on the walls, blending in as part of the unusual decor, are huge curving ducts painted cream or white, carrying the hospitals air-conditioning, etc. Two banks of glass-fronted elevators rise or lower along one wall, speedy, quiet and efficient, at the same time becoming part of the whole.

The plan of this oasis of light, air and greenery seems to have been to bring the outdoors in to the patients and staff, in a gracious and subdued extravagance. I'm sure the costs have been returned many fold in aesthetic pleasure to visitors, staff and, especially, the ill.

What am I doing there? My Mother's sister - my dear Aunt Jennie, is a patient here, in the Coronary Care Unit. There is little to do, when someone is so ill, save sit, or pace, or observe others about us - and our surroundings. I am quite grateful for these gracious surroundings. It helps to pass the weary hours - for me, now - and perhaps for her later on as she recovers.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

We are sad to hear that Miss Hobden's recovery was not to be. She passed away on Friday, June 16, at the age of 82 years. Our sympathy and that of the community is with Mrs. Magnusson and her family.

Letter to the editor

Resignation not retirement

To The Editor:

On June 16, 1989 a very sad event occurred. At Elk Point Hospital a tea was held honoring Diana Anderson on her last day of work, following her RESIGNATION.

Diana had been employed at Elk Point Hospital for 24 years, the last 10 of which were served in the administrative capacity, first as Inservice Co-ordinator, and Assistant Director of Nursing, then for the last years as Director of Nursing.

Diana is responsible for many positive changes that have kept Elk Point Hospital as a highly respected, acute care facility. Due to Diana's accomplishments, Elk Point Hospital has set a precedent for hospitals all over the province.

Among Diana's many accomplishments are The Quality Assurance Program which ensures that YOU, the patient, receive only the best care. Elk Point Hospital is fully accredited for three years which is an accomplishment not many hospitals, large or small, can boast. This is something the employees can all take credit for, but without Diana as their driving force, this would have never happened. The full credit for implementing the C.P.R. teaching program at Elk Point Hospital can be attributed to Diana. Since 1979, all employees, from Doctors to maintenance, are qualified, and recertified yearly, to perform C.P.R. competently. Elk Point Hospital is one of the very few hospitals in the province to make this claim.

These are but a few of the many accomplishments of a greatly respected, and sadly missed Director of Nursing.

No folks, Diana did not retire, she RESIGNED.

The people of the town of Elk Point and the surrounding areas serviced by Elk Point Hospital deserve to know the facts. What facts? The facts surrounding the RESIGNATION of one of the most highly respected professionals in our community.

You won't find the answers in this letter. You'll find them in your community, with hospital staff and their families, and others who keep their eyes and ears open and absorb the activities around them.

The answers are out there. The answers to why such a devoted professional RESIGNED after 24 years of dedicated service. Once you have found the answers, you the public, have a great responsibility. That responsibility begins now and the benefits of your labour will be seen in the fall election of the Hospital Board.

A tribute to Diana Anderson

By Bernie Kozicky

We are all here today to honor a very special person, Diana Anderson. This is a sad day for us as staff and members of the community who were well served by our Director of Nursing, and whose resignation was unquestioningly accepted by the board and administration of this hospital.

Diana's career started at EPMH almost 24 years ago, on Sept. 1, 1965. There was no such thing as an orientation program then - she was in charge of "south" on her first day. This wing had 15 children and 18 acute care male patients. That day 2 hernia repairs and 3 tonsillectomies were done on that unit - a very busy place with 4 doctors making their rounds - Dr. Weigerinck, Dr. Ross, and Drs. F.G. and K.C. Miller. Diana remembers staying until 5:30 to finish her work when she was suppose to be off at 3 p.m. - that dedication has never faltered as all of us have often seen her leave the building well past her 3 p.m. quitting time.

Diana worked full-time until her daughter Kari's birth in 1969, and returned after a 6-month leave of absence to work part-time, evening shifts only. That lasted less than a year - David was born in March of 1970. After a few months of maternity leave Diana returned to work all shifts and started to work in the operating room. She really enjoyed the hectic pace of surgery and remembers doing 3 tubal ligations, a hernia repair, and a vein ligation before lunch. How things have changed in 20 years!

A third maternity leave was taken in 1973 when Todd was born. Diana was then asked to return as Inservice Coordinator. This was a part-time position until it was merged with an Assistant Director of Nursing position in 1980. In 1985 Diana became DON.

Diana has been responsible for implementing many of the things we take for granted today - not only in the nursing department but also hospital-wide. The job evaluation process is one example. This was started by her and different formats were adopted over the years, always with input from staff. Diana believed in asking others for ideas and using their input.

All the procedure and policy manuals in use by nursing were compiled by Diana. These are kept in a handy Kardex at the nursing station where they can be readily referred to.

The orientation program utilizing the "buddy" system was organized by Diana - complete with a skills checklist which is completed before starting work on the floor and reevaluated at the end of the probationary period.

The volunteer program also can be attributed to Diana. This consists of school students coming into the hospital for work experience. Diana planned the orientation for the students and supervised their progress throughout the year.

Kindergarten and grade school tours were done for years by Diana. The children were always shown how an IV doesn't hurt by Diana sticking the needle in her own arm.

Diana set up the hospital-wide inservice program. Elk Point was one of the first hospitals to have this. She not only brought in many guest speakers to instruct and update the staff on various topics, but set up many programs herself as well - some taught by staff, some by herself. Many of us remembered the hospital-wide infection control inservice which not only refreshed in our minds proper procedures to handle and prevent the spread of infections, but also resulted in a more consistent way of doing things and enhanced cooperation among departments. Better procedures evolved with discussion and input from staff of all departments. Diana certainly believed in seeking input and listening to all points of view.

She also believed in sharing ideas gained from workshops and conferences attended with all the staff. This not only applied to nursing staff as it is impossible to send every nurse to every workshop - but also to herself. All of us working here 2 years ago will remember the "guest relations" program Diana shared with us - right from maintenance, housekeeping, physio, laundry, lab, pharmacy, switchboard, dietary, nursing, to administration and board. Many hours went into this - time Diana made up for after 3 p.m. - unselfishly given to improve the image of the hospital and enhance cooperation between individuals and departments.

As inservice coordinator Diana set up the recertification programs for this hospital - IV's and IPPB's for nursing staff, and CPR for everyone. Her involvement with the CPR started from its origins - she has a certificate attesting her as one of the original instructors in the province. She taught not only all our hospital staff but staff from other hospitals as well, also ambulance drivers and many, many people in our community, much of this on a volunteer basis. All staff are now recertified on an annual basis - and this again marks Elk Point Hospital as a leader in its field. The nursing contract now stipulates that recertification must take place annually, but Diana was doing this long before this was a requirement. This hospital remains as one of the few in the province that can boast that all of the staff are trained in CPR - housekeeping, dietary, etc.

Diana was also instrumental in setting up the Disaster Plan for our hospital and community. She was influential in establishing new standards that were adopted by the entire province, and making the plan more functional and operational. She set up "duty sheets" so everyone would know what to do rather than training a few select people, which was what was being done before.

Diana initiated two very important patient teaching programs as well. One of them is the diabetic teaching program. Many of the diabetics in our community are familiar with this - it has been a drawing card for our hospital. Diabetics are taught about their condition and how to control it and prevent complications. Our Tuesday morning diabetic clinic where patients return to have their progress monitored and questions answered was initiated by Diana and run by her for many years.

The cardiac rehabilitation program was the second one set up by Diana. This is tailored for patients who have had a heart attack - to make them knowledgeable about what has happened to them and possibly identify causes in order to prevent any future occurrences. It also helps recovery with a planned progression of activity as ordered by the doctor.

Diana did much work to first gain accreditation status for Elk Point Hospital, and also to have this renewed as required. Most recently, Diana can be given much of the credit of attending a 3-year accreditation status, which is a very high honor for a hospital of this size. The surveyors were especially looking for the existence of a functioning quality assurance program. Diana had set this up for Elk Point years ago. We were one of the first hospitals to have a hospital wide program to include the board. Diana as the Quality Assurance Director for the hospital has set up the programs for all the department heads and supervised their implementation. She was recently asked by the Alberta Hospital Association to do a teleconference on Quality Assurance in small hospitals - and together with the Quality Assurance Director from Wainwright produced the three hour-long sessions which were not only subscribed to by many small hospitals but included the Royal Alex in Edmonton. A high honor again - for someone from Elk Point to be so sought after.

Diana first coordinated and planned the activity program for long term care patients as we know it today. It was first done by nursing staff volunteering time and help before it became the funded positions capably held by Carolyn Onusko and Angie Lesyk. There was originally a lot of resistance to this program and even today the program has depended a lot on Diana's support.

The pastoral care program was recently set up by Diana for patients in hospital to receive spiritual counselling by various people or groups in the community if desired. Small things perhaps - but they can make a world of difference to someone in need. She has also helped to set up the Grief Support Group in St. Paul.

Many hospital-wide policies were developed on Diana's initiation and adopted by the board - for example the AIDS policy, and for employees the sick leave policy which rewards those accumulating sick time.

The long term care assessment committee for entry into the extended care wing also established by Diana. She was very active in getting approval for the long term care addition - gathering statistics and demonstrating a need to the government, and also in submitting plans as to where it could best be located.

Diana is an original member of the Hospital Auxiliary, a group which has raised money for much equipment donated to the hospital which it would not have had otherwise. A partial list is posted at the canteen - the group is still waiting for the board to bring this list up to date.

Diana has "held the fort" many times while the administrator was away - at quiet times and at times of crisis. The nurses strike in 1987 comes to mind - although Elk Point nurses did not go on strike Diana did work 21 days straight keeping up to date on developments from Alberta Hospital Association while the administrator was vacationing in Mexico. At the present time Mr. Johnson is attending the National Hospital Association Conference in Quebec for 2 weeks.

Diana has had the unenviable task of orienting 4 people to help her with management duties in as many years - Bernie Kozicky, (who keeps going off on maternity leave), Susan Slaght, Jenny Shmyr, and most recently, Lil Demchuk.

Our DON holds the office of President of the Nurse Managers section of the AHA for the northeast region - an example of the high esteem her colleagues hold her in.

Despite all these accomplishments, Diana is still a very down-to-earth person. She is as comfortable discussing treatment of corns with a diabetic as she is in discussing funding for the long term care addition with the minister of health. She firmly believes patient care is our Number One mandate - and feels staff must always act as patient advocate - looking out for and speaking in their best interests at all times.

Yes, Diana, most of the staff will miss you deeply. We will miss you taking report with us in the morning. We will miss you making your patient rounds - making sure they are comfortable and well looked after. We will miss you at staff meetings - bringing up problems and finding solutions together. We will think of you whenever we do or see the Texas Line Dance. We will miss your skits at staff retirements and farewells. We will miss you sitting in your office or hurrying up and down the hallways. A big part of Elk Point Hospital will be gone with you.

Planner - leader - teacher - motivator - builder of self-esteem - patient advocate - staff advocate - all words that can be used to describe Diana Anderson. Troublemaker? No. Not if you were doing your job properly. Diana gave a lot and expected a lot. Diana really cared about this hospital - the staff, the patients, the community. Cared enough to make a stand. Cared enough about the direction this hospital is taking to resign. Is anyone listening? Will anyone hear?

Thank you Diana, for doing so much more than your part.

Hometown Wagon Driver...

Buddy Bensmiller accepts the First Place Chuckwagon and Best Barrelling trophies at Dewberry's 11th Annual Race Meet from Adolph Butz.

Wagons run at Dewberry

The thunder of hoofbeats and the rattle of chuckwagons drew excellent crowds to Dewberry this past weekend for that community's 11th Annual Chuckwagon Race Meet.

Eleven heats of Northern Professional Chuckwagons, eight heats of pony wagons and nine heats of pony chariots were on the program, which progressed under sunny skies.

Hometown wagon driver and several-time NPCA season champion Buddy Bensmiller took top honors in the big wagons with his D. and E. DeFord outfit, which clocked a total time of 2:20:08 for the two runs. Bensmiller and his outriders, Dale Grey and Wayne Wright, received trophies from the Dewberry Branch of Border Credit Union Ltd. Stan Waddell, who placed second overall, received a $100 cash prize from Gus and Mabel Garnier for the fastest run of the meet, a 1:09:50. Ray Croteau placed third overall.

Bensmiller's Chinook Centre rig was judged the Best Barrelling Wagon, for the Dennill's Garage Ltd. trophy, and would have also qualified for a 'hard luck' trophy, losing a rear wheel early in the final race of the meet. The skilled driver finished the race on three wheels, only seconds behind the other two wagons.

Wayne Knight's Professional Cattlemen's Centre outfit won the Best Dressed Wagon trophy donated by UFA agent Meredith Whiteside, while Troy Solomon accepted the Best Outrider trophy donated by the Goldsmith Family.

First place in the Pony Chuckwagons went to Butch Sannachan with the Century 21 rig, who received the B and R Backhoeing trophy. The Gopher Gulch Roping Arena trophy for second place went to Ed Djos and the Tire Town outfit.

Obrey Motowyllo took home the first place trophy for Pony Chariots, donated by Dewberry Hotel, with Wendy Murray less than a second behind in second place for the Ken's Auto and Diesel Repair trophy.

Barrel racing, a heavy horse pull, pig races and a barbecue sponsored by the Lion's were also part of the program, and added up to a very enjoyable weekend.

Cub Camp '89

The 1st Elk Point Cub Pack held their annual Cub Camp in the United Church camp at Whitney Lake. Despite the caterpillars and the rain, a good time was had by all.

Our cubs went through a day at "Space Camp" training to become astronauts, went through an obstacle course, designed our own spaceships, and defended our planet in a lazer fight!

The next day we were "Castaways" shipwrecked near a deserted island. We spent the day exploring the island and trying to find ways of being rescued by signalling and canoeing out for help. We were finally rescued when our signal fire and flares were spotted by a Ranger.

Cub Camp signals a break in the Cubbing year, and thanks go out to all who supported us this year. A very special thanks goes out to scoutmaster Pat for all his support and attention, but most important of all, thanks go out to our Cubs themselves who have made working with them such an enjoyable experience. See you this fall.

What's news at the library?

On June 12th and 13th the Art Work of Wayne Hymanyk's Grade 3 to 6 classes was displayed in the library. This excellent art show was very well received and we would like to thank Wayne Hymanyk and his students.

Also this week our 3rd "Travelling Tales" visited the residents of Buckingham house. The weather cooperated with us and it was very well attended. The children listened to stories, puppets and participated in songs. A special thank you to the residents of Buckingham house for supplying the children's refreshments and making this such an enjoyable visit.

Next Friday "Travelling Tales" will be having storytime at the Treasury Branch. Please come and join us.

The Elk Point Public Library was represented by Daphne Schnurer and Irene Miller at Senior's Information day on June 9th. The library displayed materials suitable for seniors, gave out brochures, book marks and an invitation to visit the library and participate in a book draw, slide show and a tour of the library. A very happy winner of the book draw was Jean Grauman.

Help keep your children occupied and keep them reading this summer by signing them up for the SUMMER READING PROGRAM, "Be A Bookasaurus". The Elementary childrens program will be on Tuesday morning at 10:00 a.m. The preschool program will be on Friday mornings at 10:00 a.m. Also we have planned a Childrens Matinee on Thursday afternoons.

NEW BOOKS
Two books by Whitley Strieber "Communion" and "Transformation" - On February 10, 1987 one of the most startling and controversial books of our times was published: In Communion, the author described the shattering effects of an assault from the unknown. Transformation is the chronicle with the unknown reality he has come to call "the visitors".

A new music cassette this week is called "Travelling Wilburys Volume I" by The Travelling Wilburys.

Teachers employed by member boards in the North Central East Alberta School Authorities Association (NCEASAA) have voted 78 percent in favor of accepting a memorandum of agreement that was signed by the two parties on June 9. The teachers voted to ratify the agreement on June 13 in Smoky Lake. The new agreement is now subject to ratification by the member boards in the NCEASAA. The boards are expected to vote on the agreement on June 19.

The agreement accepted by the teachers covers the twelve month period from September 1, 1989 to August 31, 1990. It will provide the teachers with a 5 percent increase in salary on September 1, 1989 and an additional 1 percent increase on August 31, 1990. Payments to substitute teachers and allowances for administrators will also increase by the same percentage on the same dates. The member boards also agreed to make some improvements to the teachers' benefit package.

Dr. Karen Ingalls, the representative of the bargaining agent, said the results of the vote indicated that the teachers were generally satisfied with the new agreement.

"The new contract provides the teachers with a satisfactory salary increase and we also managed to achieve some improvements to the teachers' benefits package," said Ingalls.

Commenting on the negotiations, which wrapped up almost three months before the current agreement was set to expire, Ingalls said, "In contrast to the last round of negotiations which were very confrontational and which led to a five week teachers' strike, there seemed to be a willingness on both sides to take a more reasonable approach in this round of bargaining."

The 325 teachers affected are those in the Counties of Smoky Lake, St. Paul, Thorild and Two Hills, the St. Paul Regional School District and the Glen Avon Protestant School District.
